

Technology Council Fact Sheet

Membership in the NJAMHAA's Technology Council provides representatives from your company with the extraordinary opportunity to meet and discuss ideas and information with NJAMHAA's membership, comprised of 160 hospital-based and freestanding community mental healthcare, substance use treatment and developmental disability service providers, and NJAMHAA's IT Project members. It is open to any technology company that offers a product of interest to this population.

What does NJAMHAA do?

NJAMHAA represents 160 hospital-based and freestanding community mental healthcare, substance use treatment and developmental disability service agencies throughout New Jersey—all potential customers for your business— that represent most of the behavioral healthcare providers in New Jersey and may be found in every county and almost every community statewide. They serve more than 500,000 children and adults each year and employ a significant segment of the state's workforce.

Connecting with the NJAMHAA IT Project and the NJAMHAA Technology Council will enable you to create valuable new business opportunities and strengthen existing customer relations. In addition, membership offers the opportunity to meet and discuss issues of mutual interest with representatives from all of the NJAMHAA member agencies; other mental health, substance use treatment, developmental disability and children's stakeholders and government officials in New Jersey through special forums, such as specialized information technology conferences and trainings, product demonstrations and user groups.
